Work Orientations, 2005, Norwegian part of ISSP

Overview
Type	International Social Survey Program (ISSP), Norwegian part
Identification	NSD0943
Version	Production Date: 2009-11-23 Notes Data from Norwegian Social Science Data Services are documented and prepared, fourth NSD edition.
Series	ISSP prepares and coordinates annual surveys in the member countries. The topics for research are repeated at intervals of a few years. The "Work Orientations" survey was conducted for the first time in 1989, and partially repeated in 1997 and 2005. NSD conducted the survey for the first time in Norway in 1989. The objective of the surveys is to create an empirical foundation for studying attitudes, views and behaviors in questions concerning work.
Abstract This survey is carried out on the basis of the research collaboration in "The International Social Survey Programme" (ISSP). ISSP is an international organisation that prepares and coordinates annual surveys in its member countries, mainly within the fields of political science and sociology. The topic of the surveys varies, but are repeated at intervals of a few years. In this way, changes in behavioral patterns and attitudes over time as well as differences between countries and cultures, are possible to be detected and measured. The Norwegian Social Science Data Services (NSD) became a member of ISSP in 1989 and have since been responsible for carrying out the surveys in Norway. In connection with the survey, researchers are invited to add supplementary questions to the Norwegian respondents. In 2005, the objective was to collect data on conditions and experiences of work, employee flexibility, work-life balance, human capital, solidarity and conflict, significance of work, work-related values, job characteristics and work outcome. NSD and ISSP conducted similar surveys in 1989 and 1997. The Norwegian additional part in 2005, was developed in collaboration with Håkon Leiulfstrud, Department of Sociology and Political Science, NTNU, Anne Ryen, Department of Sociology, Social Work and Welfare studies, HiA and Knud Knudsen, Department of Media, Culture and Social Sciences, UiS. The questions in the Norwegian part includes themes such as power of decision and societal conditions, work-related use of computer, class identity and benefits.
